Robert Doane, M.S., L.Ac. and his wife, Anne, started the Acupuncture & Wellness Center, P.S. in Poulsbo, WA, in 1998. The clinic rapidly became the largest private Chinese medical clinic in the State of Washington. Doane holds a Master of Oriental Medicine, is NCCAOM certified in both acupuncture and Chinese Herbal Medicine, and is licensed to practice acupuncture in the State of Washington. He has lectured extensively on health throughout India, Europe, and the United States. Robert Doane has a passion for sharing keys to practice building with as many practitioners as possible, and to advance the effectiveness and visibility of TCM.

Among the most common complaints patients bring to us are fatigue, stress (anxiety), and depression. In Chinese Medicine we can effectively treat these problems if we pay attention to three specific areas:

- 1) Body type
- 2) Pulse
- 3) Underlying causative pattern

Learn from Robert Doane who has the largest clinic in the United States. See how you can bring pulse diagnosis, acupuncture, and herbal medicine to effectively treat these most common complaints!

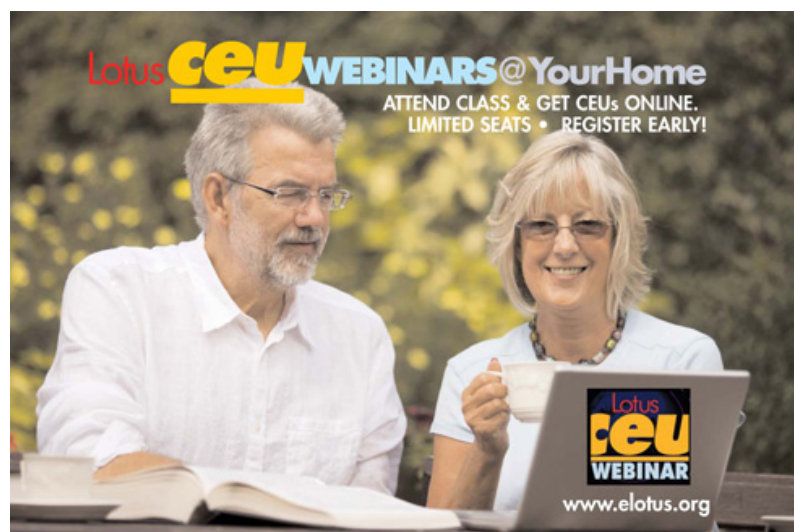

Upon completion of this course, practitioners will:

- Distinguish whether the tiredness, anxiety and depression emanates from the Heart, Liver, or Kidneys
- Understand the role of blood stasis in anxiety and depression patterns
- Recognize Heart qi deficiency patterns in fatigue, anxiety and depression cases
- Treat fatigue, anxiety and depression with immediate results

Lotus CEU Seminar Comments

"Bob was excellent. I attended one of his seminars several years ago. He was more dynamic, more informative this time. (Not that I wasn't impressed years ago, but certainly practice makes perfect.) Very organized and a wealth of information." Anonymous

"Bob Doane is nothing less than incredible. What a privilege to learn from him. Thank you very much." Anonymous
